

Single-Paragraph Summary Template: Ecological Succession

Identifying the topic	Ecological succession explains how _____ begins to _____	<input type="radio"/> inhabit <input type="radio"/> colonize <input type="radio"/> establish <input type="radio"/> take root	Where a _____ has been cleared by _____	_____, such as _____ _____ _____ _____
A component of the main topic	When a community begins to form where _____, _____, _____	Like after a _____ _____ _____	<input type="checkbox"/> it is called _____ <input type="checkbox"/> it is known as _____ <input type="checkbox"/> it describes _____	_____ _____ _____ _____
Including key details	The first organisms to appear during primary succession are called _____, or "_____".	<input type="checkbox"/> like _____ and _____ <input type="checkbox"/> such as _____ and _____ <input type="checkbox"/> like _____ and _____ for example		because they _____ _____ _____ that will allow _____ _____
Contrasting key points of topic	_____ is said to occur more _____ than primary succession,	<input type="radio"/> a difference <input type="radio"/> a contrast that is _____ <input type="radio"/> which differs from _____ <input type="radio"/> a fact which separates it from _____	<input type="checkbox"/> due to the fact that _____ <input type="checkbox"/> because _____ <input type="checkbox"/> since _____	it occurs when _____ _____ _____, but has left the _____ _____
Conclusion	If left undisturbed, ecological succession will end in the formation of a _____	<input type="radio"/> consisting of _____, <input type="radio"/> made up of _____, <input type="radio"/> containing _____, <input type="radio"/> inhabited by _____,		where it will stay until _____ _____ _____ _____